BRITAIN AND U. S. AGREE ON POLICING SEAS

American Navy Will Guard Pacific While Britain Protects Atlantic.

MAKE IMPRESSION ON JAPS

Strong Navy in West Will Show Japan the Foolhardiness of Starting War.

By Ed L. Keen
By United Press Leased Wire
London—Great Britain and America have agreed to an amicable "division" of the seas, according to general belief here Tuesday.

As a result of the agreement it was believed Great Britain will police the Atlantic ocean, America the Pacific.

This impression was strengthened by two announcements from London and Washington on the same day.

From Washington came the statement that the Pacific fleet probably will assume more importance than the Atlantic.

From London came the announcement that Great Britain will reduce her naval budget by $70,000,000 thereby abandoning any thought of competition with America's naval program.

There was a general belief there that friendly relations between the United States and Great Britain would be greatly strengthened if America goes through with its proposed program of concentrating naval power in the Pacific. There will then no longer be any question raised by the British as to "who is America building against?"

Impress the Japs

Reports from Washington that America is considering putting its fleet in the Pacific were regarded here as indicating that the United States wants to impress Japan with its naval strength.

The presence of a big American fleet in the Pacific will probably influence Japan that war with America at the present time is not feasible, many experts believe.

America's fleet in the Pacific probably would take over the patrol work now done by the British navy in waters adjacent to its colonies there and thus considerably reduce the empire's expenses for the naval establishment.

Send Mission to U. S.

Washington—The British government has begun the organization of a special mission which it proposes to send to the United States within the next month, according to advices received here Tuesday in official quarters.

The mission will formally convey its congratulations and wishes of success to the new administration and then proceed to the discussion of numerous outstanding questions between this government and Britain.

Among the subjects to be discussed, it was understood Tuesday, are an association of nations, disarmament, German reparations and Britain's indebtedness to the United States.

The first advices concerning the British mission indicate that it will be headed by three leading figures, a statesman, a diplomat and a high military officer, and a representative naval leader. Aides and secretaries will complete the mission.

Nurse Sought for $15,000 Gem Theft

Chicago.—A young and beautiful nurse, formerly employed at St. Luke hospital here, was sought by authorities Tuesday on charges of having robbed a wealthy patient of $15,000 worth of jewels.

The patient, Mrs. Caroline Griswold of New Orleans, accused the nurse of stealing the jewels and a fierce struggle followed. Hospital attendants rushed to the room and found the women engaged in what was described as a "death struggle."

The nurse declared Mrs. Griswold was insane and that she was having great difficulty in holding her. Other hospital authorities believed that the patient's talk of robbery was merely the ravings of an insane person and it was not until several days later when the nurse disappeared that Mrs. Griswold's story was believed.

Mrs. Griswold returned to her home soon after the attack. The accused woman's name was not revealed.

FORMER TURK OFFICIAL MURDERED IN BERLIN

Berlin.—A Turk believed to be Talaat Pasha, former Turkish minister of war, was shot and killed Tuesday by an Armenian student.

The assassin, which occurred near the former minister's home here, was thought to be in revenge for Armenian massacres.

WILL CONTINUE WILSON POLICY TOWARD RUSSIA

Washington.—The Wilson policy toward Russia is being continued for the present by the Harding administration, it was learned Tuesday.

Officials of the state department have been instructed to act on all matters concerning Russia as they did under Wilson.

Hold Brother For Slaying Kin's Double

By United Press Leased Wire
Bourbon, Ind.—Coroner Novits Aspinall of Marshall county, and Charles Kelly of Kosciusko county, held an inquest here Tuesday over the body of Leroy Lovett, 19, who was found in a dying condition along the Pennsylvania railroad tracks near Atwood Saturday night.

The body first was thought to have been that of Virgil Decker, who made his home with a brother, Fred Decker. Lovett and Virgil Decker were "doubles." Virgil was insured for $24,000 from accidental death.

Coroner Aspinall said he would order the arrest of Fred Decker following the inquest here Tuesday.

Lovett's body was found after a fast passenger train had struck a buggy straddling the track. No horse was hitched to the buggy and county officials believe the accident was carefully arranged to cover up the murder.

It was thought at the time the dead youth was Virgil Decker and Fred Decker so identified him. He asked an immediate inquest for burial Tuesday, but railroad officials demanded a full inquest and during the delay Lovett's father came down from Elkhart and identified him.

Trainmen discovered that Lovett's clothing was wet and that tracks led from the crossing to a shack on the edge of Tippecanoe river, situated at the rear farm tenanted by Fred Decker. In the shack, blood-stained clothing and woodwork gave evidence of a fierce struggle.

Apparently Lovett was killed by a blow from the head, with the iron from a buggy wheel.

ARRANGE TRUCE IN STILLMANS' DIVORCE TRIAL

Morbid Crowd Packs Court-house to Learn Income of Noted Financier.

By United Press Leased Wire
White Plains, N. Y.—Supreme Justice Morschauser Tuesday granted an indefinite adjournment of the hearing in Mrs. "Ethel" Potter Stillman's motion for additional alimony and counsel fees, pending trial of the divorce suit brought by James A. Stillman, president of the National City bank.

Request for the adjournment was made by John F. Brennan, counsel for Mrs. Stillman, who informed the court he was acting for both sides.

This action was accepted as meaning one of two things—either that the opposing attorneys had agreed upon a settlement outside of court or that they had decided upon a "truce."

There was a disposition to believe that the latter was more probable and that the case would be withheld from the courts until it had ceased to attract such widespread publicity.

The courthouse was crowded with reporters and curiosity seekers, attracted by the possibility that Justice Morschauser might consent to a proposition to bring Stillman into court to testify regarding his income as head of one of the biggest banking institutions in the country.

There were two motions involved in Tuesday's action—one asking for $10,000 a month alimony and $25,000 counsel fees and the other requiring Stillman to show cause why he should not be examined regarding his financial condition.

An unconfirmed report was circulated at the conclusion of the action that the divorce suit might be dropped in New York and another started in Nevada or California.

NEW LABOR BOARD IS FORMED IN MINNESOTA

By United Press Leased Wire
St. Paul.—The Minnesota state department of labor and industry and the new industrial commission came into existence Tuesday.

Governor Prouss signed five bills effective Tuesday and appointed the commissioners.

The new department takes over control of the present minimum wage commission and labor commission.

The five new laws abolish civil service requirements for many of the state jobs under the commission's control.

They fix new schedules of payment for injuries under the workmen's compensation act.

Governor Prouss called a meeting of the new board Tuesday so that it may begin to function at once. The annual salary of each commissioner is $4,500.

STREET CAR COMPANY KEEPING WOLF AWAY

St. Paul, Minn.—There's more than one way for a street car company to make money.

Two city lines are to become vendors of candy and chewing gum in an effort to increase revenue.

By H. Nelson, general passenger agent, said all cars will be equipped with gum and candy vending machines. The company will make about 50 per cent of the profit from automatic sales.

QUICK RETURN TO NORMALCY IS G. O. P. AIM

Creation of Commission to Liquidate Aftermath of War Is Proposed.

PAST EBB OF DEPRESSION

Harding and Aides Told Business Men Believe Better Times Are Coming.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Plans to return to "normalcy" occupied most of the attention of President Harding and his cabinet Tuesday.

Creation of a war liquidation commission to clear up the aftermath of the war, leaving government heads free to pursue work on peace time problems, was proposed and seriously considered.

Cabinet members after investigation of conditions in their respective departments have found and reported to Harding a situation approaching chaos in many instances, due to neglect which was unavoidable under the pressure of war matters. The tangle is so involved that Harding and the cabinet have virtually reached the conclusion that if the new administration is to make headway in solution of current problems, the legacies of the war must be gathered and placed in the hands of a liquidating commission.

A situation of neglect prevails in many of the territorial possessions and is especially critical in Alaska, where the population is diminishing and the transportation system has broken down, according to reports submitted at Tuesday's cabinet meeting.

Business Improving

The serious condition of the American shipping situation was discussed at length and it was intimated that new legislation may be sought which will enable the United States to compete on a more equal basis with nations who now pursue a paternalistic policy toward their merchant marine.

President Harding and his advisers have been informed in various conferences with business men recently that the low ebb of the nation's industrial depression has been reached and they are laying their plans in the belief that the upward turn has started.

The legislative program was gone over informally. All members of the cabinet, it was said, are planning to cooperate earnestly with the legislative committee on reorganization.

Police Regulate Crowds

Pettibone-Petibone's store seemed to be the most congested. The second floor, aisles, stairways and the sidewalk well into the street were filled with a mass of people who could not proceed in any direction. Chief George T. Prim took charge of the matter and kept the crowds moving by admitting them at the front entrance and using the annex on Appleton street as an exit. The new millinery store of Strong-Warner company was jammed inside and on the sidewalk.

People's curiosity to see what the new store was like seemed to draw them by hundreds, together with the fact that carriages were being distributed.

Living models were used in the Gloudehans-Gage store to display the latest fashions. Two little girls, attired in the height of fashion, added considerably to the interest. Refreshments were served during the evening. Although the store was literally packed, excellent order was maintained.

Stores Are Decorated

The Geenen store, which is observing its twenty-fifth anniversary as well as style week, was beautifully decorated and welcomed thousands of people within its doors. Refreshments were served during the afternoon. The Burton-Dawson, Fair Store, Ornstein and other stores selling women's apparel were packed until there was scarcely room to move. Every store was well decorated and special efforts were made to display the fashions in a most interesting manner. No sales were made in the evening although salespeople were on hand to explain and describe the creations.

While style week is for shoe stores and dealers in men's apparel, they did not attract the attention that was expected Monday night. Even the men were more interested in seeing what the women were wearing than they are in their own styles.

Style week will be continued until next Monday but there will be no further night exhibitions unless present plans are changed. It is believed from twenty to twenty-five thousand people were in the downtown district Monday night. Not less than 3,000 visited the Pettibone store alone, it was estimated.

WESTERN DRY OFFICERS WANT TO GIVE UP JOBS

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Frank D. Richardson, prohibition agent in the central states, and Ralph W. Stone, state prohibition director, Tuesday announced they would resign within the next few days.

Both said the change in administration was the cause.

"I will hand my resignation to the commissioner of internal revenue in Washington March 27," said Richardson.

"I can't quit too soon," Stone said.

RECLUSE KILLED

By United Press Leased Wire
Milwaukee.—Nicholas Gajek, 64, a recluse, burned to death here late Monday when his home was destroyed by fire. His charred body was found on the floor of his home. The origin of the fire is unknown.

CUBA TRIES AGAIN TO UNSCRAMBLE ELECTION

Havana, Cuba.—Supplementary presidential elections were held in Cuba Tuesday.

Early reports were that no disorders had arisen.

The elections were held in those provinces where returns of last fall were contested.

President Menocal guaranteed safety for all participants Tuesday and the liberal party, which has decided not to vote, changed its plans.

Indications were that the coalition party candidate, Dr. Alfredo Zayas, would win a majority of votes. His opponent, General Jose Miguel Gomez, was defeated, according to unofficial returns last fall.

THOUSANDS IN STORES TO SEE SPRING STYLES

Opening of Merchants' Cooperative Style Week Is Colorful Event.

No circus ever drew a greater throng than that which attended the opening of the merchants' cooperative style show Monday evening. Some of the stores were so jammed with people that it was impossible to move in any direction until police officers took charge of the situation. Both the merchandise displays and street features attracted wide attention.

There was a din of whistles and bells at 7:30 announcing the opening of the event. By that time thousands were on their way to College-ave. The Ninth Regiment band began its concert at that hour and played at various places on the street most of the evening.

An exhibition run was given by all companies of the fire department early in the evening. The trucks started well toward the east end of the avenue and proceeded to the west end at a merry clip, headed by the chief's car carrying Nicholas Reiter, assistant chief. Only a moderate speed was maintained to avoid accidents, due to the congestion at street crossings. The apparatus returned to the east end of College-ave, and then retired to the fire station.

11-YEAR-OLD BOY GOES ON TRIAL AS MURDERER

By United Press Leased Wire
Knox, Ind.—A flock of pigs of guilty to charges of harboring booze and gaming devices, followed by the inflicting of sentences by Judge William G. Pencest in circuit court Tuesday produced the setting for trial of the case of Cecil Burkett, 11, who is charged with killing a playmate, Bonnie Slavin.

The booze and gaming charges were contained in indictments against a score of Starke county poolroom and soft drink parlor proprietors as a result of raids recently made.

The Burkett case, it was said in court Tuesday, would probably be reached late this afternoon.

HARDING PICKS CABINET AIDES AS MEDIATORS

Davis, Wallace and Hoover on Packer Strike Arbitration Board.

UNION LEADERS PLEASED

Both Sides Willing to Arbitrate Difficulty But Strike Vote Continues.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—The dispute of the packers with their employees was put up to President Harding Tuesday. Secretary of Labor Davis, an hour before the cabinet meeting, called at the White House with a portfolio of papers bearing on the case and went into Harding's office.

The matter was expected to be discussed at the cabinet meeting which last week decided to make the offer of government mediation.

Davis and Harding agreed that a commission composed of Davis, Secretary of Commerce Hoover and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace would sit as a mediation commission to hear both sides of the dispute.

The packers agreed to this form of mediation, Davis said, and he is now waiting on the employees who are conducting a referendum.

Satisfy Union Heads

Chicago.—The men named by President Harding and Secretary of Labor Davis to mediate the dispute between packers and workers, are satisfactory to the workers, union leaders declared Tuesday.

"I believe the men chosen—Secretary of Labor Davis, Secretary of Commerce Hoover and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace—will give a fair and square deal and we have nothing to fear about an amicable settlement of the differences," said Dennis Lane, international secretary of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen.

However, Lane expressed the belief that unless the packers are forced to maintain the old wage scale and basic 8-hour day by the government, there will be a strike.

There is no possibility of a strike until after the mediation conference, Lane said.

Vote on Wednesday

The strike vote will be taken throughout packing centers of America Wednesday. International headquarters here expected to get flashes by noon Thursday. There is no doubt as to the vote, leaders said.

The conference of international leaders of nine packers' workers' unions here Wednesday is expected by labor leaders to authorize a strike of all union packer employees to support the action of the butcher workmen.

Denounce Packer Plan

Chicago.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor was expected to arrive here Tuesday to discuss with the international officials of nine crafts employed in packing plants and stockyards, the possibility of a unified walkout.

Dennis Lane, secretary of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen's union, denounced the plans of packers whereby employees would be given a voice in labor conditions.

It was announced that Attorney Carl Meyer and James G. Condon of Chicago, had been appointed to represent the packers at the arbitration hearing to be held in Washington March 21.

N-P ORGANIZER DEMANDS STATE PUNISH ATTACKERS

By United Press Leased Wire
Salina, Kans.—Former Senator J. R. Burton Tuesday was waiting to see what is said and done in Kansas about "the blackest of all crimes in the calendar, the suppression of free speech by force."

After issuing a lengthy statement detailing the treatment accorded himself, Mrs. Burton and Professor William of Oklahoma when they were escorted from Burton county by a "mob of fifty men" last Saturday, and giving the "facts of the tarring and graying" of J. O. Stevie, editor of the Nonpartisan Leader, and P. O. Parsons, state organizer, Burton refused to discuss the affair.

He announced, however, that he had appealed to state officials to bring the leaders of the mob to justice. Governor Allen announced previously that an investigation was under way.

DAY OF VAMPIRE WANNING; THEDA BARA SHOULD KNOW

New York.—The day of the vampire is waning, Mrs. Theda Bara declared in an interview with the United Press Tuesday.

The actress, who has been absent from the screen for a year and a half following a nervous breakdown resulting from overwork and the unusual strain of her roles, said she planned to return soon but not in the characterizations that made her famous.

Nonetheless, she said, she will exemplify "the virtuous vampire."

Mrs. Bara was asked whether in her belief men or women had been most interested in her vampire roles.

"Women," she replied emphatically. "Women who had been treated badly by men came to see me on screen and felt that here is one of us who is able to treat men as they deserve."

FIRE IN PULLMAN CAR BURNS FIVE TO DEATH

Denver.—Five persons were burned to death in a fire which destroyed a Pullman car at Denver and Rio Grande train near Walsenburg, Colo., Tuesday.

The burning car, the last in the train was discovered by the engineer. The train was stopped and passengers and crew made desperate attempts to rescue the imprisoned passengers of the sleeper.

Order Flagman For Meade-St. Rail Crossing

In a decision just rendered the Wisconsin Railroad commission has ordered the Northwestern Railroad Co. to catch and maintain protection to the public at Meade street crossing by a flagman between the hours of 7 a. m. and 8 p. m. daily. The commission has also ordered the company to take such measures as will result in discontinuing the practice of storing coal on its right-of-way at that point and of discontinuing the practice of stopping cars on the first track north of the main track within 100 feet of the line of Meade street.

The decision is the result of a hearing held in the city hall six weeks ago, which was attended by members of the railroad commission and by officers of the Northwestern Railroad Co. Evidence of the urgent need of some kind of protection was so apparent that the railway company introduced no evidence. The city specified no particular kind of protection, and was granted a flagman which is considered safer than gates or any other mechanical device. Theodore Berg, city attorney, received a copy of the decision Tuesday morning.

PLOT TO DISRUPT UNIONS CHARGED BY LABOR HEAD

Union Leader Declares Majority of Railroads Want to Continue Contracts.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—A majority of the railroads of America oppose abrogation of the national agreements, in the opinion of Bert M. Jewell, rail union leader. In statements by Jewell and Frank P. Walsh, attorney representing the unions, Tuesday, it was disclosed an effort to prove this will be made before the United States labor board Friday. Railroad executives will appear before the board at that time to be questioned by union attorneys.

"W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania lines, backed by the powerful Morgan and G. forces, has exerted sufficient influence with other railroads to secure their support in the battle to crush the unions," Jewell declared.

Jewell believes the effort to break the national agreement has a three fold scope. One purpose is to bring behind the railroads' demands are:

1.—A part of the national campaign of big interests to bring about general upon shop working conditions.

2.—A forerunner of the fight to cut wages which will eventually come before the United States railroad labor board.

3.—To drive every man who seeks to hold his union card out of railroad employment.

Jewell said the railroad executives "gratuitously struck at the weakest of their unions first—that of unskilled labor."

"The plan," he said, "is to wipe that union out of existence and then the other unions will be dealt with separately."

Under the railroad board's order, executives must open the minutes and records of conferences on the national agreement. Union leaders said the minutes would show many roads opposed to abrogation of the national agreement. They believed they will also disclose the influence which caused the executives to demand abrogation of the agreement.

TRACY WANTS TO END SERVICE ON COUNTY BOARD

Fourth Ward Man Has Represented His District for Quarter Century.

John Tracy of the Fourth ward did not file his nomination papers with the city clerk for reelection as a member of the county board, his intention being to withdraw after twenty-five years of continuous service, but it is understood that his friends will insist on writing in his name on the ballot at the coming municipal election.

Mr. Tracy entered the county board at the time the state was infested with trainees over 100 frequently occupying the county jail at one time. The late Peter Tubbs of Seymour was chairman of the board at the time and with Mr. Tracy was an enthusiastic worker for the new institution. Mr. Tracy was a member of the building committee. The workhouse cost the county several thousand dollars, but more than paid for itself the first year.

Chairman 12 Years
Mr. Tracy was chairman of the board for 12 years and was succeeded by Douglas Hodgins of Hortonville only four years ago. For six years he was a member of the county state road and bridge committee and helped to put Outagamie county on the map as one of the pioneer counties in the middle west to take up the building of permanent roads.

During his long service as a member Mr. Tracy also served on several important building committees, notably those in charge of the building of Kimberly bridge, jail, sanitarium, training school and county asylum barns that were destroyed a few years ago by a tornado.

Among other members who served as chairmen during Mr. Tracy's connection with the board were David Hodgins of Hortonville, father of Douglas Hodgins, Lewis Wurl, John Brill and Adolph Locksmith. The board until of late years held its meetings in the room at the courthouse now occupied by the municipal court. In those days the members were usually driven here by some members of their family early Monday morning and remained for the entire week. Automobiles which now make it possible for members to return home each afternoon were then unknown.

Confessions Of A Bride

THE BOOK OF DEBORAH

When Love Passes the Point of Common Sense It Is Ruled by Greed

I ended my note to Bob abruptly when the taxi which I had summoned stopped at my door. I had written too much, I had barely time to catch my train. I couldn't snatch a second to phone to Cheryl or Mother Lomner. I decided to let my note to Bob tell the whole story. As I adjusted my hat pins, I noticed Ted's wire to me on the top of my dressing table. Then I ran down stairs and ordered the chauffeur to hurry. Bob could explain my absence to the family after he had read the letter I had written him.

Deb and I, in our Pullman section, were very quiet as the limited rushed across the familiar country-side. Bob was happily preoccupied, and I, as unhappily.

Where was my husband? I could think of nothing else.

Deborah gave me my identification tag, the conductor had collected our tickets and I opened my purse to put it away.

"Why, I forgot to leave my note to Bob!" I exclaimed.

"Wire him from the first stop," suggested my practical companion.

I shook my head. Some perverse impulse whispered to me:

"Let Bob get excited about you! When his business detains him he usually phones you, you know. He did not do so this evening. Let him worry!"

That suggestion did not permit me to sleep soundly. I dreamed the silliest stuff. I dreamed about a woman I had known who had trunks and trunks crammed with remnants. Each one had been a bargain when purchased. Finally the woman accumulated so many pieces of cloth that her early purchases went out of style. Never in a long life would she find time to make up all the yardage she had collected!

I sat up in my berth with a jerk. The dream wasn't particularly exciting until I was awake enough to perceive what it stood for.

It was symbolic. The woman had one, had a proper instinct for thrift but in the end, she had been obsessed by the love. Her admirable instinct had ended in acquiescence. Love of things passed the point of common sense and she was ruled by greed. Suddenly I perceived that my subconscious revelation concerned my hidden dread about my husband.

And I faced a great fear.

Love is a natural and beautiful instinct until it obsesses a human being, until it ends in acquiescence and greed.

I had always respected Bob as the most refined of men. But the fear grew in me and waxed strong—the horror fear that he would by humoring his fancy for Katherine grow acquisitive of love adventures and seek further conquests.

Nothing could be more vulgar from my point of view than a Don Juan.

Such bargain hunting, in love, would place Bob and me on different planes, and would separate us forever. Only lately I had read that Don Juan's conquests increase his egotism and his sense of power. Then his egotism and vanity grow and impel him to make new conquests.

I hit my own arm to keep from crying out. Never before had such a dreadful idea possessed me.

Such a change in Bob was not unthinkable. But it was fatal. It would separate us forever.

His little flirt over Katherine, I might condone, perhaps. This was the first time I had ever admitted the possibility of pardoning that offense. That flirt was nothing at all compared to the chance that my darling husband might degenerate into an easily flattered Don Juan.

Farmers Bring In Eggs As The Price Declines

Eggs again are being brought to town in large quantities by farmers and the tendency of the market is downward. One grocery firm took in over 1,000 dozens Saturday, one farmer alone bringing in over 180 dozens. Monday was another big day for delivery of eggs but did not come anywhere near the Saturday record. Previous to Saturday the supply of eggs did not much more than cover the demand.

SPORTSMEN TO HOLD BIG BOOSTER MEET

Sportsmen from every corner of Outagamie county will be here next Monday evening when the Outagamie County Fish and Game Protective association holds its booster meeting in Elk club. Arrangements will be made for increasing the membership so Outagamie county will have the largest organization of its kind in the state.

Assemblyman Mark Catlin, former president of the state association and now chairman of the fish and game conservation committee of the Wisconsin assembly, probably will be one of the principal speakers. Mr. Catlin will endeavor to show the need of having an organization strong enough to play a leading part in state conservation affairs.

Sportsmen will be here from Black Creek, Seymour, Shiocton, Bear Creek, Dale, Hortonville and from practically every community in the county. The meeting is to begin at 7:30 with P. M. Conkey, county president, presiding.

WAR CHEST STILL ABLE TO EXTEND AID TO VETERANS

Big Balance Remains in Treasury of Organization, Report Shows.

After paying out $820 for relief to 14 former soldiers during 13 months to Feb. 1, the community war chest still has a balance of $8,423.50, with Liberty bonds figured at par, according to a report of the executive committee. Income from Liberty bonds and other sources made the fund shrink only $336.75 during that period.

The chest had $8,500 in Liberty bonds at the beginning of the year and $260.25 in cash. One bond for $500 was cashed to obtain ready money. One loan to a soldier amounting to $50 was paid back. The total income from interest was $361.25. The only expense was $25 for rent of a safe deposit box. The present balance includes $8,000 in Liberty bonds, par value, and $423.50 in cash.

Many residents of the county do not understand that this fund is still in existence and available for former service men needing relief for themselves or families, the report says. The executive committee asks the public's cooperation in informing soldiers or sailors in distress about the fund and the fact that relief is available.

All that is necessary to obtain help is to have the soldier or sailor or his dependents, or any one in their behalf, to present a written application for relief to any member of the executive committee. Sixteen meetings were called during the year to consider such applications. Each application is given careful and sympathetic

EXPECT TEN TEAMS IN MILL LEAGUE

Plans for Industrial Baseball League Are Perfected at Meeting.

Eight men of the Interfactory league committee met Monday at the Y. M. C. A. and discussed interfactory baseball for the coming season. The following rules were adopted: Men must be employed by the mill four weeks before they are eligible to play on a team.

Each team must post a forfeit fee of $25 as a guarantee that it will play out the season. Eight teams have already signified their willingness to enter the baseball league and there are prospects that the Valley Iron Work and Appleton Woolen Machine Co. will also enter.

The teams now entered are Appleton Coated Paper Co., Eagle Manufacturing Co., Interlakes, Kimberly-Clark, Fox River mill, Patterson Plumbing Co., Appleton Wire Works and Combined Locks.

Erwald Ellas was selected secretary and treasurer of the league to succeed Clyde Smith. April 15 was agreed upon as the date for the beginning of the league schedule.

Plans were completed for the annual spring banquet to be held at the Y. M. C. A. Monday, March 25. The medals for bowling and basketball are to be presented at the banquet.

SCOUTS TO START EFFICIENCY PLAN

Virtually Every Phase of a Boy's Life Will Be Touched Upon in New Contest.

An efficiency contest touching upon virtually every phase of a boy scout's life and activities was launched at a meeting of the Scoutmasters association Saturday evening in Hotel Appleton. All twelve troops of the Appleton Boy Scout council are to be enrolled. A hospital first aid pouch will be given the troop winning the highest number of points.

Work on the scoutmaster training course was continued by E. R. Henderson, scout executive, following the dinner. Discussion was on "The Boy" dealing with his characteristics, habits and other factors that concern boys of scout age.

No time is to be lost in getting the efficiency contest under way. It will be submitted to the troops Tuesday, and is officially in force from March 15 to June 15. Copies of the requirements and points to be awarded have been supplied each scoutmaster by the council.

Attendance at scout events and at church at least once a week are among the requirements which entitle a troop to points. Individual attendance at hikes, per centage of enrollment attending and per centage of attendance based on length of hike are to be considered.

Service to the troop or to the council will win points for a troop. Awards will be given for each hour of duty by order of headquarters, for enlisting one scoutmaster, one assistant scoutmaster, one examiner or other official, or for enlisting one scout.

Scoutmasters Can Help
Advancement in rank is to count for a large number of points, based on records of the court of honor. The amount of the award depends on the importance of the rank obtained, including anything from second class scout to eagle scout. Scoutmasters attending association meetings and taking the training course will raise the per centages of their troops.

School work and home duties are also considered. Proficiency in school work and high standings will be recognized. Each scout is to submit a written statement from his parents indicating his willingness and cheerfulness in performing tasks around home.

Actual troop activities are to be marked according to efficiency in a large number of details, including personal appearance, cleanliness, proper uniform and insignia, knowledge of work in respective ranks, and ability in demonstrations and drills, test work, games and other activities. Neatness and condition of troop records will be ascertained as well as promptness in submitting reports. Troop committeemen will win points for their troops by attendance at meetings and interest in work.

Boost Capital
Fox River Valley Knitting Co. has filed an amendment to its articles of incorporation with A. G. Koch, register of deeds, increasing its capital stock from $100,000 to $150,000. The amendment is signed by Joseph Eggers, president, and W. W. Nottage, secretary.

BRICKYARD-RD. TOO MUDDY FOR TRAFFIC

Rains and warm weather have caused portions of the Brick Yard rd. in the towns of Grand Chute and Menasha, to become almost impassable, according to drivers who have attempted to pass through with horses or automobiles. The mud is said to be so deep in places that wheels sink in up to the axles. An attempt is being made by highway employees to fill in some of the bad places, but their efforts have not been very successful, it is said.

Farmers living in the locality of this highway are reported to be circulating a petition to serve an injunction on contractors who were awarded a contract for paving this highway two years ago. In case they begin paving operations on Second ave. first, they appear determined to have the road put into proper condition. A detour to Spencer rd. is necessary to avoid the mudholes.

ELECT NEW OFFICERS AT COUNTY BANKER MEETING

Election of officers is to occur at the meeting of the Outagamie County Bankers association in Hotel Appleton Thursday evening. About 50 bankers, officers and employees from various financial institutions of the county are expected to attend the banquet.

Dr. D. O. Kinsman of Lawrence college is to speak on "The Bankers Place in Business." C. R. Prosser of Seymour, president of the association, will address the bankers on "Education of a Banker."

WANT AID IN FIGHT AGAINST TAXATION

Cooperation of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce has been asked by the Superior Civic and Commerce association in a move to prevent the Wisconsin legislature from passing legislation involving further taxation.

The resolution adopted in Superior said the state has experienced a disgraceful waste of money in the last four years, imposing an outrageous burden on the people. It urges that no further taxes should be placed on Wisconsin citizens. Out of firms having less taxation are able to undersell home companies, forcing many to lose and others to quit business.

Economy is more easily possible by the state than by the individual, the resolution reads; and the legislature should therefore exert its power in this direction. The resolution was adopted by the Superior body and has been submitted to its legislative representatives in Madison. The matter will be considered by the local body, Bill No. 50 S, with amendments 146-S and 33 A are especially opposed.

Mrs. Ira D. Flansburg has returned from a several weeks' visit with relatives in the east.

Robert Hensch, who has been confined to his home at 558 South River street with a severe cold for the last two weeks, is able to be out again.

The Vatican at Rome Recommends Nuxated Iron

If you lack BODILY or MENTAL VIGOR; If you are WEAK; NERVOUS or IRRITABLE, TRY NUXATED IRON TODAY.

Nuxated Iron CONTAINS ORGANIC IRON LIKE THE IRON IN YOUR BLOOD AND LIKE THE IRON IN SPINACH, LENTILS AND APPLES.

NUXATED IRON also contains a remarkable product, brought to the attention of the French Academy of Medicine by the celebrated Dr. Robin, which represents the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force FOR FEEDING THE NERVES, so that NUXATED IRON might be said to be both a BLOOD and a NERVE FOOD.

THERE ARE 30,000,000,000,000 RED BLOOD CORPUSCLES in your blood and each one must have iron.

Today about one person out of every three is said to suffer more or less from the great devastating weakness brought on by malnutrition or lack of sufficient nourishment; which is caused NOT BY LACK OF FOOD but often by LACK OF SUFFICIENT ORGANIC IRON in the blood to enable us to GET THE STRENGTH OUT of our food.

IRON IS THE MASTER PRINCIPLE OF THE BLOOD AND LIFE. Our forefathers ate the husks of grains and the skins and peels of vegetables and fruits, rich in strength-giving organic iron, but modern methods of cooking throw all these things away—hence the alarming increase, in recent years, in Anemia—iron starvation of the blood with all its attendant ills.

When, as a result of iron starvation, you get up feeling tired in the morning, when you find yourself nervous, irritable and easily upset; when you can no longer do your day's work without being all fagged out at night; when your digestion all goes wrong, or you have pains across the back, shortness of breath, heart palpitation or your face looks pale and drawn, don't wait until you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration, or until in your weakened condition you contract some serious disease, but consult your family physician and have him take a specimen of your blood and make a "blood count" of your red blood corpuscles or test the iron-power of your blood yourself by adding plenty of spinach, carrots, or other iron-containing fruits and vegetables to your daily food and take organic iron—Nuxated Iron—with them for a while and see how much your condition improves. Thousands of people have surprisingly increased their strength, energy and endurance in two weeks time by this simple experiment. But be sure the iron you take is organic Nuxated Iron and not metallic iron which people usually take and which is made merely by the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron—an entirely different iron from Nuxated Iron. The fact that you may have taken metallic iron without receiving any benefit does not prove that Nuxated Iron will not help you. Nuxated Iron represents organic iron in such a highly concentrated form that one ounce is estimated to be approximately equivalent (in organic iron content) to eating half a quart of spinach or one quart of green vegetables. It is like taking extract of beef instead of eating pounds of meat. Nuxated Iron is used by over 4,000,000 people annually.

WHAT THE VATICAN SAYS ABOUT NUXATED IRON
"I am happy to inform you that your gift of Nuxated Iron has been accepted with particular gratitude by the Holy Father, who, persuaded by its beneficial effects, and AFTER HAVING IT SPECIALLY ANALYZED BY THE DIRECTOR OF THE PHARMACY OF THE VATICAN, formulates the most sincere wishes that your product may become famous and be as appreciated by the public AS ITS VALUE CERTAINLY MERITS."

ADEQUATE POLICE PROTECTION

The city council at its meeting Wednesday evening will no doubt, discuss further the ordinance creating a woman protective officer to operate in connection with the present police force and under the direction of the chief of police.

There is no doubt but what a vast amount of sentiment exists in Appleton for a woman on the police force, vested with such powers and duties as are given women officers in a great number of cities which have already placed women upon their police forces. There are innumerable matters in which a police woman can be of incalculable benefit. If the woman selected be tactful, diplomatic and knows her business thoroughly, she can without doubt, serve a very definite and necessary purpose.

Her work with juveniles, young girls, street mashers, and others with whom she might come in contact in promoting higher public morals cannot help but commend itself to the public of Appleton. Her appearance at depots, on street corners where boys and girls congregate, or at public dances and parks is distinctly a work where a woman can no doubt get better and more satisfactory results than the average patrolman.

Delinquency and juvenile cases in our municipal court can be handled in an improved manner by the addition of a woman officer. There are hundreds of other matters in which such an addition to our police force would commend itself to our better citizenship.

But if the selection of a woman protective officer comes at the sacrifice of one of our police force, it becomes quite a different matter and one that requires much sober thought and sound business judgment. It is understood there exists in the council quite a difference of opinion on this point. If the appointment of a woman police officer is to fill one of the vacancies which now exists in our police department, such action might have a tendency to weaken rather than strengthen this department.

It must be borne in mind that the city is none too well policed at the present time; nor will it be with the filling of the two vacancies now existing in the police force by the appointment of two men. Many blocks, and in some instances entire wards are inadequately patrolled on account of a limited police force.

The Post-Crescent, however, believes both vacancies should be filled with competent patrolmen and that we can still well afford to add the police woman. According to statistics compiled in "Wisconsin Cities for 1919," Appleton would still stand below nearly all other Wisconsin cities in the number on its police force as compared with other cities of similar population or property valuation.

The fact that Appleton to date has not been hit by the crime wave which has been sweeping the country for the last several months is no argument for under-manning our police force. The taxation argument which always precedes an increase in expenditures in any department of city government while recognizable, should not be taken too seriously in this case. The salary of a police woman, when compared with the good which can be derived, is of little consequence. In fact, it would mean very little even to the largest taxpayers in Appleton.

The council, we believe, will find itself highly commended by its action in appointing a woman protective officer in addition to our regularly organized police force and it should be a matter of satisfaction to every citizen of Appleton, such a progressive, forward-looking movement had been enacted in our city.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

Thousands of human beings are killed, or maimed, by automobiles every year. The number of accidents constantly grows, due to two reasons: The increase in population, and the increase in use of the automobiles. But the number need not increase, if there is a decrease in carelessness. Most pedestrians will jump at the conclusion that the carelessness referred to is that on the part of the driver.

Police Commissioner Enright of New York says that his records show that 78 per cent of the automobile accidents are the fault of pedestrians, failing to cross at corners, running past the traffic officer, jay-walking, running ahead of approaching automobiles, and committing other violations of traffic ordinances.

If it is true that the pedestrian is 78 per cent responsible and the driver the 22 per cent responsible for automobile accidents of this kind, we would not hesitate to accept this ratio as substantially correct in every city; there is a lesson in it to the pedestrian which heretofore has not been taken very seriously by that much concerned individual. This does not of course relieve the driver of an automobile from any of his responsibilities, which are major in every sense of the word. In other words since he is operating a machine which is capable of killing or injuring persons it is his duty first of all to drive carefully and at all times within the law. Having done this the secondary responsibility rests upon the pedestrians, and his duties it is then up to other users of the street to look after their own obligations. Automobile accidents are frightfully in excess of what they should be and the number of deaths and injuries are appalling, but there must be joint cooperation between the drivers of machines and the public to improve this record.

THE PLUM TREE

The faithful are gathering beneath the local federal plum tree to wait for the luscious fruit that is about to fall. The trees in the administration's orchard are heavy with ripening postmasterhips, district attorneys, revenue collectorships, and other desirable offices.

Patronage has always been the bitter that went with the sweet of the presidential office. No president since Andrew Jackson has been exempt from its torments. Some have protested against its exactions on their time, their patience, their good nature and their peace of mind. Others have suffered in silence. A month or so after he was elected president, Mr. Harding delicately suggested something of what he was already then enduring from the pursuit of place seekers and their friends.

"Turn the rascals out!" first became a party slogan in the administration of Jackson, who believed in rewarding his friends and giving his enemies what he thought was coming to them. Up to Jackson's time few men had been removed from federal office for political reasons. President Adams removed only ten men, one a defaulter, Jefferson, 9; Madison, 5; Monroe, 9; the younger Adams, 2.

Clay, Calhoun and Webster condemned the spoils system but not until 1871 were steps taken to curb it by civil service regulations. Later the assassination of Garfield by a disappointed spoilsman resulted in an enlargement of the civil service list.

Cleveland at first set his face against spoils, and the beginning of his administration was anything but satisfactory to politicians who wanted a clean sweep. But in the end Cleveland yielded to pressure, and before the third year of his administration had closed, about 45,000 out of 56,000 officeholders had been ousted.

A partisan has presented the new administration with a new broom to which is tagged the injunction "Use It."

NEIGHBORLINESS

By Alfred Arnold
When a neighbor greets a neighbor
With a kindly "hello,"
Then a neighbor greets a neighbor
In his heart the whole day through.
When a neighbor tells a neighbor
That he sees his "stiff,"
Then a neighbor bows his neighbor
To work the smooth out from the rough.
And that's no bluff!
When a neighbor shows a neighbor
That he has to give and take,
Then a neighbor lends a neighbor
A hand when it's hard to break.
And no mistake!
When a neighbor helps a neighbor
In a neighbor's time of need,
Then a neighbor greets a neighbor
With a "hello" that's sweet and true.
Yes, indeed!

NEURITIS

Neuritis is inflammation of a nerve or nerves, characterized by pain in the course of the nerve or the parts to which the nerve is distributed, pain of a burning, boring character, rather worse at night and aggravated by movement or use of the affected part; tenderness to pressure upon the nerve or nerves involved; redness and perhaps puffiness (edema) of the skin of the region involved; weakness or partial paralysis of the muscles supplied by the affected nerve; and after several weeks or months atrophy or wasting of the muscles.

Thus the silly popular habit, encouraged by some equally silly doctors, of dubbing every passing ache or pain "a touch of neuritis," is most misleading. The word neuritis means nerve inflammation, not pain. In many cases of neuritis the pain ceases after a time, but the disability (from partial paralysis of the affected muscle group) continues many months, recovery being gradual, but usually complete. It is possible to mention only a few familiar causes of neuritis and a few rules for the prevention of needlessly protracted suffering and disability. The factor most commonly cited by the ancients or antiquaries is that dear old delusion, "exposure to cold." We old fossils keep on saying "exposure to cold" when we don't know what ails our patient and haven't the courage to say so. Particularly is a common neuritis of the facial nerve, causing a rather abrupt paralysis of one side of the face, blithely ascribed to "exposure to cold" if the victim happens to have ventured out without his rabbits' foot in his pocket in the weeks preceding the attack. The fact is that "exposure to cold" means we are still guessing. Something may turn up, but we don't know precisely where we are at, yet, and we must soothe the patient's curiosity until we find out or he loses interest in the nature of his trouble. Some of the actual causes of facial paralysis (Bell's palsy) are infection and inflammation of the middle ear, skull fracture, tumor in the brain, localized meningitis or brain abscess, syphilitic gumma of the brain, injury of the nerve trunk itself at the point where it emerges from the skull back of the jaw.

Inflammation of one or more nerves of the trunk or limbs (limbs means arms and legs) is caused by injury of the nerve involved; by extension of inflammation from other tissues about the nerve, say from a joint or an infected wound; by the circulating poison of alcohol, lead or arsenic in the chronic poisoning by these poisons; by the circulating poison of such infectious diseases as diphtheria, typhoid fever, scarlet fever; and in tropical climates by the lack of vitamin in the diet (the use of polished rice as a staple, rather than the unpolished brown rice is the cause of the multiple neuritis known as beriberi).

From the variable and non-specific nature of neuritis it will be evident that no remedy can be considered usefully indiscriminately. The most important thing is absolute rest of the affected part or of the whole body, for the same reason and in the same way you rest a fracture.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Foot and Scalp Disease
E. S. H., a violinist, presents the following observation: I have observed that an itchy scalp goes with sweaty feet. I have found that one or two washings weekly with surgeon's solution of bichloride of mercury (corrosive sublimate) and a little boracic acid into the shoes and into the socks once a week will overcome the trouble forever. Feet have gotten to be all right the scalp automatically gets right. (E. S. H. does not specify the strength of the bichloride of mercury solution which he uses, but perhaps a one-to-two thousand solution would be right).

Bilious Attacks
A friend of mine suffers from bilious attacks for which she has always taken calomel and found relief. When I told her that calomel does not increase the flow of bile or produce any particular effect on the liver she said it could not be so, as calomel had been prescribed for her biliousness by her family physician, who is a physician in good standing. Did I misunderstand, or what? (E.)

ANSWER—The science of medicine is what you told your friend; the art is what her doctor prescribed. In the science of medicine, calomel has no effect on the liver, and there is no such thing as calomel poisoning, but in practice often prescribed calomel for biliousness. Frankly (as this is print, not practice) possibly your friend's calomel habit is a factor of her attacks. Overeating is the common cause of the periodic rebellions called "biliousness"—and it is easy to understand how one so inclined might be aided and abetted by the thought that if necessary a charge of calomel could be sent down to force matters. There is really no justification for the use of calomel as a physic, as I know from years of practice with and without such use. But calomel is a valuable medicine for certain conditions in which it is really indicated, as doctors say.

The Savage's Salvation

By Frederic J. Haskins

Washington, D. C.—Thousands of wealthy persons are now booking trips to Hawaii and other South Sea islands. These places, of which you seldom heard a few years ago, are now in all the news. Numerous books are written about them. Pictures of them are painted. They are the "fad."

And the romantic element in each of these places—the real center of interest—is a native population which still wears picturesque clothes and follows picturesque native customs. The civilized man seems suddenly to have discovered that the primitive man is an interesting chap, worth knowing for his own sake.

When you come to think about it, this attitude toward the Tahitians and the Hawaiians is probably the beginning of a great change in the attitude of civilization toward savagery. Only consider what the attitude toward the savage has been in the past. First he must be conquered. Every savage or primitive people on the face of the globe has been more or less shot up by some civilized nation. Then the savage must be civilized. He must be given clothes and religion. He must be taught to farm and make change. In fact, he has nearly always been introduced to whiskey, morphine, cocaine, tuberculosis, and various other perquisites of civilization.

The civilizing process has been almost as hard on the savage as being conquered. The classic case of the Hawaiians who were induced by the missionaries to wear clothes, with the result that they all caught cold and many of them died, is typical. It may be said that almost no part of civilization has really benefited the savage. His only hope of survival is to be allowed to go on being a savage in peace. And that is what, at last, the civilized man seems inclined to let him do.

The Case of Gauguin
It really seems to be the artist who has come to the rescue of the savage. Take the case of Tahiti. Some years ago a French painter named Gauguin went to that remote island. He stayed there the rest of his life, living with the natives and painting them. He became famous. He suddenly called the attention of the civilized world to the fact that the Tahitians were a most picturesque and beautiful people, who should be preserved as they are, like any other wonderful nature, not converted into commonplace civilized persons. Then Somerset Maugham, an English novelist, wrote a novel based on the life of Gauguin, and in this book did most effectively show the ugliness of commercialism, the loss of beauty and peace in tropical island. Third came another artist in words, Frederick O'Brien, and wrote a book about Tahiti and neighboring islands which was one of the most popular travel books ever written. In effect all three of these artists were apologists for the savage as he is. They said, in the first place, that he is a picturesque and interesting fellow, who ought to be allowed to live his life as he pleases both for his own sake and

SKOGMO SCHOOL BILL CREATES A NEW STATE BOARD

Harmonious Management of School Affairs Provided for in Measure.

Special to Post-Crescent
Madison.—Senator George B. Skogmo, Liver Falls, introduced his long expected bill Tuesday providing for the reorganization of the machinery of educational administration in Wisconsin.

"The bill was prepared after consultation with educators from all sections of the state," Skogmo said in an interview. "It will save money, but more than that, it will provide for a harmonious and efficient administration of the state schools. It is particularly gratifying to me to find that a form of organization which is recommended by the educational experts of the country, will save the state money."

Senator Skogmo's bill deals constructively with the educational administration and is apparently designed to end all controversy between the educational agencies of the state. The state superintendent is given an honored position in the reorganization plan. Through his membership on the boards the state superintendent touches the educational system at every point in every grade of instruction. Large opportunity for service on these boards is given him.

"The bill wipes out the present state board of education and the state board of vocational education and creates in their stead a new state board of education made up of an entirely different basis from that of the present state board of education," said Senator Skogmo.

"On the new board there will be no representatives of local educational institutions as at present. The governor, who is on the present state board of education, will not be on the new board. It will be a board made up of representatives of all the leading elements in the community. It will be a board of seven members, of which one shall be a representative farmer, one shall be a representative of merchants, manufacturers or other business men, and one shall be a representative employee not having employing or discharging power. At least one member of the board shall be a woman. Two additional members are to be appointed without reference to their occupation. This makes a lay board, and provides for the cooperation of industry, labor, and farmers, with trained educators on the new board. Under the new plan the state superintendent of schools will have his present great opportunities for leadership through his membership on state board of education itself, the state board of normal regents, the state board of university regents, the Stout institute board, the training school board, and the free library commission. He will also be the chairman, ex-officio, of the state board of examiners for teachers' licenses, and will be charged with the supervision and execution of the duties of said board. Together with the attorney general and secretary of the free library commission, the state superintendent of schools shall have charge of statutory duties regarding the contracting, purchasing and rebinding of library books. The state superintendent of schools shall apportion and distribute the common school fund income in accordance with the constitutional provisions and statutory provisions."

"The new state board of education will have all the present duties of the state board of vocational education and will administer the educational bonus law. The provisions of the present state board of education law are modified considerably. The new state board of education will exercise the duties with reference to biennial estimates and will have authority to investigate and inspect and supervise the public schools of the state. Under the new plan there is a coordination of educational administration and the opportunities for the harmonious working out of a program for education for all our children which will raise the level of Wisconsin schools."

ROADSIDE GRAVEL PITS MAY FOLLOW HIGH RAIL RATES

Highway Engineer Warns Railroads to Reduce Rates on Road Materials.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison, Wis.—A demand on the railroads for an immediate and drastic cut in freight rates on highway material and a warning that if it is not forthcoming the state and counties will be compelled in self protection to open roadside pits and quarries and produce their own material near the job, cutting off freight haulage, is contained in a communication sent by the highway commission to all the railroads operating in Wisconsin. Immediate attention to the matter is suggested as the state is holding up a large amount of work pending the decision of the railroads.

The demand of the commission has stirred up railroad circles and caused considerable apprehension among the owners of commercial pits. A few years ago the annual shipment of aggregates from commercial plants ran to four million tons a year. If the present rates continue the commission states the haulage this year will not run to one-third of that amount.

The railroads are frankly warned that they confront a continuous cutting off of a large freight business in Wisconsin unless they reduce the rates. Once local roadside pits are opened and equipped, roadside production will become an established practice and the effect on the revenues of the railroads in Wisconsin will be felt forever. The high freight rates are not only prohibitive in themselves but result in higher prices for travel, sand and stone due to a reduced output.

"In order to save the situation," wrote State Highway Engineer Hirst, "it is absolutely necessary that an immediate and heavy cut be made in the freight rates prevailing on highway materials. The rates must be cut because only in that way can the commercial plants which ship by rail reduce their prices to a basis competitive with locally produced materials in Wisconsin."

Concluding his letter he stated: "The final stake is whether untold millions of tons of material for our Wisconsin road program are to be

BURGLARY SUSPECT ADMITS HIS GUILT

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New London.—Earnest Brown, who was taken into custody by Chief Leuck several days ago admitted breaking into Mack's store when assigned before Judge Miller. New lines, fuses, switches and the measuring and recording instruments are being installed at the electric light plant. When the job is completed it will be self-operating.

R. H. Maag, who has been salesman for the Northern Lumber and Supply company has resigned to accept a position at Ironwood, Mich.

He will work for the Morton Lumber company. His position will be filled by Paul Dawley who came here from Antigo and had been Mr. Maag's assistant for several months.

SEE LITTLE CHANCE FOR MARKETING BILL

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison, Wis.—That the present marketing bill, drafted by Alvin C. Ries, counsel of the division of markets for the agricultural committee of the assembly, will have to be greatly amended before it could be passed is the declaration of several members of the legislature who have looked into the matter.

The charge has been made that the bill would permit the building up of a powerful political machine, which the present legislature will prevent if possible. It is also said the bill in its present form is objectionable in some features to both the administration and to the attorney general.

Members of the committee on agriculture stated that week that the bill would be favorably reported on in a few days. Now, however, it is believed with the prospect that the measure would be killed outright if under the auspices of the Civic Improvement League. Besides the lecture there will be a musical program, consisting of selections by the girls Glee club and violin solos by Prof. Walters.

The Ladies Aid and Missionary society of Trinity English Lutheran church will be entertained by Mrs. W. D. Sharitt at her home on West Beacon-ave., Wednesday afternoon.

MARKETING EXPERT URGES ADVERTISING

Madison.—Ed. Nordman, head of state marketing division, believes that advertising on the part of marketing organizations can be made very profitable when the fundamental conditions of business success are present.

"Advertising," says Mr. Nordman, "is as essential to the success of a marketing organization as are sufficient finances, good management and the loyalty of its members."

"Advertising carries to the outside

New Method Of Teaching Citizenship Is Designed To Make Better Citizens

Prof. Leon C. High of Appleton High School Originates Interesting, Practical Course in Citizenship and Government.

How would you have liked it if you could have learned the essentials of city, state and national governments without having to wade through chapter after chapter of technical facts in civic textbooks during your school days? You recall how dry and uninteresting was the mass of detail about government machinery, duties of officers and a maze of other facts that never appealed to you. Chances are you forgot all you learned as soon as you left school.

Realizing how essential this knowledge is to every pupil and how much better a citizen he will make if he understands his government, Appleton high school has found a method of making the study interesting, even fascinating, through a class in the "principles of democracy" taught by Leon C. High. Here problems of the commonwealth are threshed out in true parliamentary form with the students leading the discussion and the professor in the background. In the actual application of the principles of government the student learns more than he would otherwise acquire in a class in civics.

Makes Better Citizens
The plan of instruction is original with Mr. High. He believed that students ought to be trained in practical citizenship. He wanted to see them leave school not only with a knowledge of what city, state or national government is like, but with a desire to go out and do something for the good of their community. He believed they should be eager to see the problems of the day solved, instead of standing back and letting a few do it, perhaps not properly.

Precedents were left behind last fall and the new plan of teaching citizenship and government put into operation. The Appleton school is perhaps the first in the United States to adopt this. Other schools are asking for details of how the course is conducted. Representatives of three publishing houses have called on Mr. High asking him to prepare a textbook, and it is possible that he may do this later.

Freshmen and seniors are taking the new courses. The former are taught citizenship and the latter deal with local and national problems. One of first acts of Mr. High was to have the pupils prepare a paper on what citizenship meant to them. Not a one mentioned any duty connected with being a citizen, but all told of the privileges they enjoyed under the government of the United States. Their schooling teaches them that they owe a duty to the commonwealth that extends these privileges.

Discuss City Problems
Courses were elective this year for seniors, and the new freshman class was required to take the citizenship course. They will be required subjects for both classes next year. The freshmen are learning about the government of the city of Appleton. They are to be taught this in a realistic manner by organizing the class into a municipal governing body under the aldermanic form. A mayor and aldermen will be elected and they will sit in a council just as the city fathers do at the city hall. Matters will be presented and the usual procedure carried out. Problems will be proposed and their solution arrived at.

Seniors are taking up city, business and governmental problems through a forum arrangement and by means of resolutions. The instructor sits as an ex-officio member of the body, and the person to whom the topic under discussion is assigned acts as chairman. Miss Geneva Blumchen has been elected secretary. Everything has been done according to parliamentary rules.

Right now the class is studying Appleton's big problems. Each pupil has been given one topic applicable to Appleton. He considers it thoroughly and prepares a resolution dealing with the subject, advocating reform, improvement, change or something that will make Appleton a better city. The resolution is copied on the blackboard in the classroom and is discussed by all the students. It is amended, altered, or sections abolished, and impracticability or wisdom of the sections proved. With all angles sufficiently aired, the discussion is put to a vote. This completes the procedure and another topic is then taken up.

Among the subjects under consideration are the form of government for Appleton, city planning, zoning, establishment of civic center, bridges, physical side of street problem, use and appearance of streets, parks and playgrounds, other recreation, community center, general beauty of the city, the river, smoke nuisance, water supply, health work, sewage and garbage, hospital facilities, street railway and service, railroad facilities, fire department, police, schools, library, public market, and publicity for Appleton.

Students Take Lead
Mr. High remains in the background and lets the students take the lead in the discussions. The ideas and arguments are original with them. They become thinkers, studying the matters from all sides and frankly presenting their opinions. Many times the discussion warms and there is always an exceptional interest. They learn about the city government, procedure and problems through this means of contact, and are equipped with a definite knowledge when they leave the class.

Business and industrial problems are to be taken up next, Mr. High says. The class is to be organized into a board of directors of a corporation, which is to sit in conference on big problems. A workmen's council will wait on the directors asking for certain concessions. The board will take up each portion of the request and argue it to a solution. Some highly interesting discussions are anticipated.

This preamble accompanies every resolution presented in the city study. "With a sincere interest in the present welfare of the city of Appleton and in its future growth and development, we, the members of the class in problems of democracy of Appleton high school, wish to show our determination to work actively for a better fulfillment of our civic duty and, therefore, submit the following resolutions, passed after due deliberation and discussion."

Progressive Measures
Some noted changes would occur in Appleton were the resolutions actually adopted and put into operation. For instance, petitions would be in circulation for a change from aldermanic to managerial government. It was argued that the old form proved inefficient and incompetent in general practice and that a change would be to advantage. The vote was 19 to 4 in favor of the change.

City planning would be put into operation quickly under the resolution on this subject, where the vote was 26 to 3. It is stated that ordinance No. 169 of Appleton provides for a city planning commission. The best interests of the city require such a commission, and the resolution provides that one be appointed at once and steps taken for a survey of the city.

Zoning won 26 to 1. The resolution states that the business section shall extend from the west side of Drew-st. to the east side of Cherry-st. and from the north side of Lawrence-st. to the south side of Franklin-st. All buildings are to be fireproof, no less than four and no more than ten stories in height, and in conformity with health requirements for light and ventilation. River frontage from the college to Pearl-st. is to be restricted to building for public purposes. The factory district shall be confined to the area south of College-ave. and west of Mason-st. to the city limits. Exclusive residence districts are to be located on the land between the river and Pacific-st. from Drew-st. to the east river bank in the First ward; and from Lawrence-st. to Prospect-st. and from Elm west to Story-st. in the Third ward. No buildings not of a residence nature will be permitted. Lots shall be of a minimum frontage of 80 feet, all others in remaining areas to be not less than 40 feet.

Want Civic Center
A civic center was favored by a vote of 20 to 0. The city council is to designate, not later than Sept. 1, 1921, the river frontage west of the college campus to Pearl-st. and as far north as the south side of Lawrence-st. as a place to contain eventually the public library, postoffice, city hall, armory, court house, community center and any other buildings owned by the public for carrying on public work.

Lake-st. bridge proving inadequate to meet demands made upon it, the class voted 16 to 5 to have it repaired and its use by street cars prohibited. A foot bridge is to be built at the end of Lake-st. and a viaduct at the south end of State-st., which shall be for the purpose of diverting traffic from the main part of the city.

Widening of Oneida-st. 20 feet, continuing Washington and Franklin-sts. to State-st. by filling in the ravine, and paving of many other streets is urged by a vote of 26 to 0. Curbs are to be provided on unpaved streets, and State-st. at the end of the proposed viaduct is to be continued and paved to Foster-st.

Iron sign posts on two corners of each street intersection, with the street light at the top are provided in the resolution on appearance of streets, where the vote was 17 to 2 in favor. Parking of cars in the business district for longer than 10 minutes is to be prohibited. There is to be an area of eight feet between sidewalks and streets of residence districts.

A further resolution asks that the city improve Alicia park for an outing center, because there are too few parks and playgrounds. Transportation

SHE DARKENED HER GRAY HAIR

Tells How She Did It With a Home-Made Remedy

Mrs. E. H. Boots, a well-known resident of Buchanan County, Ia., who darkened her gray hair, made the following statement:
"Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy with this simple remedy, which they can mix at home. To half a pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, one small box of Barbo Compound and 1/4 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair every other day until the gray hair is darkened sufficiently. It does not color the scalp, is not greasy and does not rub off. It will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger."

A DRUGGIST'S ADVICE

Minneapolis, Minn.—"When my children were small I had a sick spell that weakened me so I could not walk across the floor without the aid of a chair. Our druggist advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery, alternately, according to directions, and six bottles completely restored me to health and strength. Since that time I have frequently recommended these two famous remedies to members of my own family and to my friends and have seen only the most satisfactory results from their use."—Mrs. Mary Ross, 2313 22nd Ave., S. All druggists sell these medicines. Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalid Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.

tion facilities are to be arranged. Playgrounds are also urged for each ward, with adequate supervision in the summer time. This was adopted 16 to 3.

Two additional public swimming schools would be asked - of the city council in the resolution on general recreation, one in Alicia park and the other indoors in a proposed community center. Sufficient land is to be purchased in each ward and prepared for such games as baseball and football so all may have a chance to enjoy these sports. No place is provided in Appleton for these games, it is stated. This passed by a vote of 18 to 2.

WEATHER MAN IS MEAN TO FERBER PHOTOGRAPHER

The photographer representing the Universal Film Co. of California, who was in Appleton the greater part of last week for the purpose of taking pictures for the new motion picture of "Fanny Herself" written by Edna Ferber, returned to Chicago Saturday without getting any snow scenes except at Lake Winnebago. He remained here several days longer than he intended hoping that the city would be visited by a fall of snow which failed to come until after he had taken his departure.

Mrs. Eugene Konzelman and Miss Leona Konzelman have returned from Milwaukee, where they attended the style show.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment. Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parment (Double strength). Take this home and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Parment used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial. adv.

SINCE our sale of January and the taking of inventory on Feb. 1st which marks the ends of our business year, we have busied ourselves in marking down the merchandise in our store to present replacement prices and even less. Forgetting all about original price and original costs, we have thereby taken our loss and are doing business on the new lower price basis.

Prices now are practically on the same basis as those of the spring of 1917 and we know you'll find them pleasingly attractive.

JACOBSON GIVEN PLACE ON HONOR TOURNAMENT TEAM

Award Gold Medals and Banner to Appleton Following Oshkosh Tourney.

Jacobson was the only Appleton man to be given a place on the all-tournament basketball team following the second tournament in Oshkosh which closed Saturday evening with the championship safely in Appleton's possession.

Two Appleton men—Dunn and Brice—were placed on the second honorary team, Dunn getting the center position and Brice placed at right guard.

Jacobson was the star of the tournament. His wonderful work in the last game with Neenah was largely responsible for the overwhelming victory over the University City crew. Dunn and Brice, with their great defensive work, kept the Neenah men under cover while Jacobson scored from all corners of the floor.

Following are the two all-tournament teams announced after the games.

First Team

Right Forward—Jacobson, Appleton.

Center—Reed, Shawano.
Right Guard—Collins, Fond du Lac.

Second Team

Right Forward—Dillet, Shawano.

Center—Dunn, Appleton.
Right Guard—Brice, Appleton.

In all probability Appleton will send eight men to the state tournament in Madison Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week. Coach Vincent is working his men hard in preparation for that event. Menomonee, by virtue of its splendid record during the season and in the northwestern sectional tournament, is a favorite for the championship.

The following teams have been entered: Madison, Rhinelander, Platteville, Menomonee, Racine, Neillsville, Superior Central and Elmwood.

Appleton was awarded the tournament banner following the victory in Oshkosh and the players are to receive gold championship medals. Neenah players will receive silver medals and bronze emblems will be given to Fond du Lac, third place winner.

The 1921 tournament was the most successful ever staged in Oshkosh in spite of the fact that Oshkosh was forced out of the running long before the final game was played. Appleton and Fond du Lac fans helped swell the attendance.

ORLANDO RANKS AMONG KINGPINS OF GRAPPLERS

Expect Record Breaking Crowd
at Wrestling Match
Here Thursday.

This wrestling game is a hard life. When a man feels he ought to be permitted to take things easy, along comes a harder proposition than he has ever tackled before. That is the life of George Hill who will meet Alex Orlando, the Swedish giant, in Armory G Thursday night. Orlando comes here with the best reputation of any of the men Hill has met this season.

Not only is Orlando one of the strongest men in the United States but he ranks way up among the star wrestlers. His record includes bouts with London, Freiburg, Cutler, Clann and other top-notchers in the mat sport. He is a young man and if he continues to improve should be in the running for the world title before very long.

Hill is developing his speed in order to offset the big advantage in strength which will be with his opponent. Fans who saw the last bout here remember Martinson's little stunt of getting on his feet while Hill was using a headlock know that strength is a big element in the wrestling game. Hill expects to wear down his man with the headlock until he is weakened sufficiently to be harmless.

Promoter Elmer Johnston has a crew of men at work strengthening the balconies for the immense crowd which is expected Thursday night. There was considerable fear at the last match that the balconies would

Joe Brings His Famous Chin To America

Joe Beckett

London—Joe Beckett, England's heavyweight champ, is packing up his flashy wardrobe for a trip to America.

He will take his famous chin across the Atlantic and show them how it works.

When Carpenter returned from the United States he said:

"America has made me rich in money, as well as wealthy in mind. It taught me to know the world."

Beckett listened in on Carpenter's conversation and now will try it for himself.

"I want to meet this fellow Dempsey," he says.

"Maybe he won't fight me on account of the hangfire match with Carpenter. Maybe he will."

"They seem to think I've got a funny chin over there, do they?"

"Well, I'm the English champion, ain't I?"

"I'll fool 'em."

Beckett has been the doorman of both Carpenter and Frank Moran.

Charles Harvey of New York will look after Beckett's ring business.

Beckett expects to be met at the gang-plank by a flock of Yank heavies—all eager for the chance to pop him on the chin.

RICKARD LAUGHS AT FIGHT FAILURE YARN

By United Press Leased Wire
New York. — Tex Rickard is not ready to announce where Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier will make their fortunes.

The promoter of the big show said Tuesday he probably would let the public in on his little secret within a week—or maybe not until April 1.

Failure to get a few minor ends together prevented him from announcing the scene of the battle Tuesday as he intended, he said.

Rickard laughed at the stories that the fight has blown up.

"These tales that Carpentier hasn't his forfeit money posted, that his wife has forbidden him to go through with his agreement, and that he's looking for a way to run out of it are good advertising, if they are true," he said.

Carpentier is sailing from France for America on May 4 and will arrive here about May 15, according to Captain T. J. Mallet, close friend and American representative of the Frenchman.

went on strike Monday morning as a protest against a 20 per cent reduction in wages effective March 1. George Schneider and Charles Sample, national organizers for paper and pulp workers unions, both of Appleton, are conducting the strike. Strike leaders said only a half dozen men are at work while it was announced at the company's office that 20 per cent of the normal working force of 500 persons is on the job.

Strikers declare there is a clause in the agreement with the Northern Paper Mills which says 30 days' notice must be given before there is any action of a debatable nature. Officials of the company deny this and are offering to show the contract to prove their contention.

None of the other mills in Green Bay are affected by the strike, it was said. Strike leaders say one of the things which led to the walk out was the discharge of a man employee and filling the place with a woman.

TO AVOID PENALTY

As Tuesday is the last day for tax payers to file their federal income tax returns, the federal office in the City hall will remain open Tuesday night until 9 o'clock to give everyone an opportunity to file returns on time and avoid paying the penalties prescribed by the law. It is estimated that over 50 per cent of the returns are still outstanding. Assistance will be given free of charge to all those in need of it to properly compute their net income.

All single persons whose net income was $1,000 or over, and all married persons whose net income was $2,000 or over are obligated to file a return regardless of the amount of exemptions claimed. If returns are not filed at a federal tax office or placed in the mails on March 15, 1921, they are delinquent and tax payers of such delinquent returns are subject to heavy penalties.
